PREFACE.

THE following Index to Part IV of the 'Catalogue of books printed in the XVth century now in the British Museum' (London 1916), containing the books printed at Subiaco and in Rome, is the result of the joint initiative of the author and publisher, who have undertaken the work on their own responsibility. Now that, owing to the outbreak of the war, the work on the catalogue has been temporarily discontinued, they trust that students of incunabula of whatever nationality will feel indebted to them for two reasons: (1) Many of the books described in this Index have appeared without name of printer, which makes it very difficult to find a certain book without an Index. (2) The editors of the present work have arrived at a great many fresh conclusions which all students of this branch of learning will have to take into account.

The order of this Index, as of the Index to Parts I–III, is the same as that in Hain's 'Repertorium Bibliographicum', the books not known to Hain being interpolated as nearly as may be on the same system. As this Index, as a matter of course, is only a provisional one, the names of the printers have been indicated with the greatest possible succinctness, the place-name 'Rome' having been omitted throughout. Only the three books printed at Subiaco are accompanied by a reference to their place of origin. Lest the uniform aspect of the printed page should be disturbed, which would make the Index less easy to survey, special details concerning the Hain-numbers, such as 'variant' and 'part', have been indicated by v and p only, whereas references to Hain-numbers, which complement one another, or to such as are identical, are in each case mentioned separately.

May this unassuming and entirely disinterested production, published in a small neutral country, remind the learned of all civilised nations of their friendly collaboration in this field before the war.
